3. [] Met with Jay Sourwine, Senate Internal Security Subcommittee staff. We discussed possible dates for the appearance of [] before the Subcommittee in executive session. Sourwine said he didn't think he had a chance of getting a member in Washington on 12 or 13 November as we suggested but it was possible that he could get one on the 10th. We will continue our efforts to establish a mutually agreeable date. He said Senator Dodd would be in town 16 through 18 November and he was quite certain that he would make himself available if necessary.

With respect to his inquiry on the date of termination of [] from the Agency, []

[] Sourwine thanked me for this information and said he had advised the Chairman of the Agency's desire not to have [] called as a witness before Internal Security. He said he had heard nothing further from the Chairman on it and doubted that he would. He said if the Chairman wished to pursue this that he (Sourwine) would contact us before doing anything. As an aside he mentioned that should this develop we might want to "brief" [] before his appearance.

Left with Sourwine copies of foreign press comment on the report allegedly received by the Italian Communist Party concerning Khrushchev.

4. [] Handcarried to the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy a letter setting forth the names of those persons authorized to receive information at the Top Secret Restricted Data level.

George Murphy, of the Committee staff, advised me of his departure tomorrow for Europe in connection with his attendance as an observer to the Joint State, Defense, and AEC Security Inspection Review Team at the upcoming meeting in Paris and London. Murphy commented that he was going to use this trip as an opportunity to sound out various people with respect to their views on the MLF and PAL.

In talking with Murphy, I mentioned that we had received rumblings indirectly indicating that Jack Rosen, of the Committee staff, felt that the staff was not receiving sufficient information or cooperation from the Agency. (This had been passed to us by Dr. Reichardt of AEC.) Murphy assured me that if Mr. Rosen had given such an impression it definitely was not an expression of feeling as far as the Joint Committee staff is concerned and that we should not be upset by any report to this effect.
